Carmichael Accepts Award

Mr. James V. Carmichael, 3rd, of Spences, Inc., accepted the 1964 Woman's College Distinguished Service Award -- the thirteenth such award that has been given -- on Wednesday, April 15. Mr. Carmichael was introduced by John Loumbrey, Chairman of the Department of Education, President of the Department, and awarded by President Lee.

The honor was accepted in the name of Mrs. W. E. Prather, Carmichael's daughter, who then talked on the subject of the "New South" in relation to the United States and to the world.

Ted Shawn, Dancer Speaks In Assembly

Ted Shawn, Father of dance in the United States, will be the principle speaker during assembly on Wednesday, April 22. The seventy-two-year-old dancer wound up his life to the founding and development of American Dance Art. In 1914, his professional life and his first American tour to Ruth St. Denis and together they were the first American dancers to tour the United States extensively. Shawn is a case that this country could produce its own dance artists with their own unique style and who are ever dependent upon both the European dancers and the European Dance Art. His second pioneering efforts toward the American Dance Art began in 1935 when he

Three New Members Join College Theatre

A surprise trip to Maco and dinner at the Sultan's Table, Brussel's, Tuesday, heightened the induction of three new members into College Theatre on April 2. Cynthia Marsh, a sophomore from Atlanta, Doris Parrish, a junior from Ocilla, and Rebecca Wind, a sophomore from Cairo, were welcomed by the old members of College Theatre, Mr. Hart, the sponsor for the group, and invited guests.

To become a member of College Theatre, the girls had to put in one hundred hours of work on publicity, makeup, costumes, acting, lighting, student direction, props, or set construction. Seven of the one hundred hours must be done in one area of stage work. The remaining thirty hours are done in three other areas with ten hours in each area. College Theatre mem-

Jett Woodford Receives Award

Jett Woodford, a sophomore from Gainesville, who is the current president of the annual Martha Irwin Stibey award, addressed the Home Day program on April 15th. On receiving the award, Jett, who was in the choir, related, "I almost fell off the stage!

A home economics major, Jett is also a prominent campus figure who is now serving as a corresponding secretary of C.G.A., a member of the A Capella Choir, Phi Sigma Chi, and Pi Upsilon, a national honorary home economics fraternity. Next year she will be a junior advisor. For two years she has been a member of the faculty of the University. After graduation, she plans to enter the field of merchandising.

The Martha Irwin Stibey Alumni Award comes in the form of a 1600 scholarship, given to a rising junior and an incoming senior. It is an award to be coveted, and Jett is most deserving.

Y Sponsors Voter Registration

Y is sponsoring a project to encourage registration for voting in the November election. May 3 is the registration deadline for this election. Any student who is eighteen and a resident of Georgia or a resident of Georgia may register in the office of the tax collector in the Baldwin County Courthouse. The student may then vote in either Baldwin County or the student's home county. Y urges everyone to take advantage of this voting privilege.

Dr. Steele Gives Talk At Student Forum Thursday

On April 23, the newly organized Human Relations Committee, whose chairman is Diane Stough, will present its first program in the Y-assembly. A Student Forum will be held at which Dr. Harold Bussick will speak on the Biological Aspects of Race. His talk will deal with the inferiority, if any, of one race to another.

The purpose of the Human Relations Committee of Y.W.C.A. is to acknowledge the existence of the greatest social issue, the lack of understanding between people, and to encourage each member of the student body to consider its effects in his life and to encourage each to accept the challenge in this issue.

CGA Makes Magazines Available

Cindy King, president of CGA, announces that magazines for the use of the students are on a table in the CGA office (third floor Parke). Anyone who is interested is welcome to go by and read them.

April Brunson Receives Business Award of Merit

April Brunson, senior business education major from Waynesboro, Georgia, is the recipient of the 1964 Business Education Award of Merit given annually to the most outstanding business education graduate in member institutions by the National Business Education Association. Selection is based on scholarship, evidence of professionalism, interest in teaching as a profession, contribution to the department, and to the college community.

Mrs. Brunson is presently student teaching at Alapaha at Milton College and shall receive the award consisting of a year's membership in NBEA, a year's subscription to BUSINESS EDUCATION, and a birthday gift certificate to the Chapter for state offices in the organization.

CGA Discusses Following tradition, Cindy King, newly elected president of College Government Association, was thrown into the spotlight by a question from Georgia McDade, a sophomore, that said, "Who is the best man in the college today?

T. Kelley Whig (will) be a junior advisor next year, Freshman Mark Brown and his freshman friend take first and second vice presidents. Treasurer for the coming year is Leilah Rogers, a freshman from Commerce, Georgia. She has served on the social committee for her Sunday School. Joan Evelyn Whigworth, a freshman from Martin George, is the new reporter. She has served as secretary of B.U.I., secretary of the Frosh Men Sunday School Class, and vice president of the Home Economics Chapter. The secretary will be elected from the incoming freshman class.

YWCA Announces Results of Spring Retreat

YWCA began its new year with a cruise held at Lake Lanier on April 3 and 4. Upon arrival at the lake Friday afternoon, the committee chair men met with their coordinators. After dinner, Daphne Duke, President of Y, discussed the meaning of this major organization on campus. The major topics during the evening were centered around YREAKS, student forums, student activities, social occasions, YREAKS, social occasions, and the possibility of a YREAKS, social occasions, and the possibility of a spring retreat.

On Saturday morning the discussion of the Y SKIT program was led by Eddie Johnson, who is the new vice president of the organization and who is in charge of Y Sisters this year.

In conclusion, the retreat was successful both for getting business accomplished, and for introducing the student and retreat procedures to both new and old students.

Britt Asks For Applications

Dr. Britt has announced that all students who have reached sophomore standing should visit their class after the Teacher Education Information evening and listen to him for an application as admission as early as possible.
THE COLONNADE

Four Classes - Par or Bogey

By Paula Arnold

There seems to be an extensive array of discussion in the freshman class concerning the three-hour courses. While many students realize that these courses are mandatory and administrative, they do not understand the purpose of these courses. Furthermore, some students have doubts about the relevance of these courses. The discussion varies from department to department, with some students supporting the three-hour courses and others opposing them.

There seems to be a general belief that students should be able to work harder and do better in three-hour courses. Students express frustration that three-hour courses are not an option and that they are often taken by students who are not interested in the subject. Some students also mention that three-hour courses are often taught by graduate assistants who may not have the same level of expertise as faculty members.

Some students argue that the three-hour courses are a way for the university to control student performance and that they are not beneficial for all students. They suggest that the university should consider offering more flexible course options to meet the needs of diverse student populations.

On the other hand, there are some positive aspects mentioned by students. They point out that three-hour courses provide a structured learning environment that can be beneficial for students who need guidance and support. Students also mention that three-hour courses can be a good option for students who prefer a more intense and focused learning experience.

Overall, there seems to be a mixed reaction to the three-hour courses. While some students support them, others have concerns about their effectiveness and relevance to their academic goals.
Summer Student Program Offered

A new academic-year program in June for American college students will be inaugurated June 1 by the Instituto de Estudios, largest U.S. sponsor of overseas education. Called the Hispanic Year, the 18-month program will be conducted at the University of Madrid, the center of the institutes of the University of Madrid, the University of Central American Studies, and the National University of Mexico. The program is designed for students who have studied Spanish before, but who need additional instruction in the language. The program offers a choice of more than 130 courses in history, political science, international relations, economics, Spanish language and literature, and art, among others. The program will be conducted by U.S. students who have received their degrees in Spanish in major universities.

Institutional programs are available. The program consists of two terms: the first term will be spent at the University of Madrid, and the second term at the National University of Mexico. The program will include tours of the cities of Madrid and Mexico City, as well as visits to cultural centers, museums, and libraries. The program will also include a visit to the National University of Mexico, where students will have the opportunity to study in a university classroom.

The program will be conducted by U.S. students who have received their degrees in Spanish in major universities.

Students Display Varied Expressions and Sentiments

by Janette Hugginbotham

Leigh Johnson

In the summer, people tend to express themselves more freely. The students at the University of Georgia are no exception. On Monday, April 20, Amber Kuros, a third-year student, was captured on camera singing and dancing in the air while walking through the campus.

The first major point to make about Shakespeare is that he wrote his plays in the late 16th and early 17th centuries, and that his works are still being produced today. Shakespeare was a prolific writer, and his works continue to be performed in English-speaking countries around the world. Shakespeare's works are considered to be among the greatest in the English language, and they have been translated into over 100 languages. Shakespeare's works continue to be studied and performed today, and they remain relevant to modern audiences.

The second major point to make about Shakespeare is that his works are still being produced today. Shakespeare's works continue to be performed in English-speaking countries around the world. Shakespeare's works are considered to be among the greatest in the English language, and they have been translated into over 100 languages. Shakespeare's works continue to be studied and performed today, and they remain relevant to modern audiences.

The third major point to make about Shakespeare is that his works are still being produced today. Shakespeare's works continue to be performed in English-speaking countries around the world. Shakespeare's works are considered to be among the greatest in the English language, and they have been translated into over 100 languages. Shakespeare's works continue to be studied and performed today, and they remain relevant to modern audiences.

The fourth major point to make about Shakespeare is that his works are still being produced today. Shakespeare's works continue to be performed in English-speaking countries around the world. Shakespeare's works are considered to be among the greatest in the English language, and they have been translated into over 100 languages. Shakespeare's works continue to be studied and performed today, and they remain relevant to modern audiences.

The fifth major point to make about Shakespeare is that his works are still being produced today. Shakespeare's works continue to be performed in English-speaking countries around the world. Shakespeare's works are considered to be among the greatest in the English language, and they have been translated into over 100 languages. Shakespeare's works continue to be studied and performed today, and they remain relevant to modern audiences.

The sixth major point to make about Shakespeare is that his works are still being produced today. Shakespeare's works continue to be performed in English-speaking countries around the world. Shakespeare's works are considered to be among the greatest in the English language, and they have been translated into over 100 languages. Shakespeare's works continue to be studied and performed today, and they remain relevant to modern audiences.

The seventh major point to make about Shakespeare is that his works are still being produced today. Shakespeare's works continue to be performed in English-speaking countries around the world. Shakespeare's works are considered to be among the greatest in the English language, and they have been translated into over 100 languages. Shakespeare's works continue to be studied and performed today, and they remain relevant to modern audiences.

The eighth major point to make about Shakespeare is that his works are still being produced today. Shakespeare's works continue to be performed in English-speaking countries around the world. Shakespeare's works are considered to be among the greatest in the English language, and they have been translated into over 100 languages. Shakespeare's works continue to be studied and performed today, and they remain relevant to modern audiences.
SUMMER JOBS for STUDENTS

NEW 5/14 Edition: Summer jobs openings in 30 states. MALE or FEMALE. Unpaid professional research for students includes entry-level pay rates and job details. Employers and their addresses for hiring in media, humane camp, national parks, resorts, etc., etc. Hurry! Fill out the order blank and send to Summer Jobs Directory—P. O. Box 13959—Phoenix, Arizona.

JOBS ABROAD

STUDENTS & TEACHERS Largest directory yet! Lists hundreds of permanent career opportunities in Europe, South America and Africa for MALE or FEMALE. Includes extensive data on living costs, countries visited, tax benefits and other useful information to share with foreign subsidiaries. Exceptionally high pay, free travel, etc. In addition, describes—quotes—what procedures necessary to foreign employment. Satisfaction guaranteed. Send two dollars to Jobs Abroad Directory—P. O. Box 13959—Phoenix, Arizona.

SUMMER JOBS for STUDENTS

NEW 5/14 Edition: Summer jobs openings in 30 states. MALE or FEMALE. Unpaid professional research for students includes entry-level pay rates and job details. Employers and their addresses for hiring in media, humane camp, national parks, resorts, etc., etc. Hurry! Fill out the order blank and send to Summer Jobs Directory—P. O. Box 13959—Phoenix, Arizona.

JOBS ABROAD

STUDENTS & TEACHERS Largest directory yet! Lists hundreds of permanent career opportunities in Europe, South America and Africa for MALE or FEMALE. Includes extensive data on living costs, countries visited, tax benefits and other useful information to share with foreign subsidiaries. Exceptionally high pay, free travel, etc. In addition, describes—quotes—what procedures necessary to foreign employment. Satisfaction guaranteed. Send two dollars to Jobs Abroad Directory—P. O. Box 13959—Phoenix, Arizona.
Alumnae Day

By Fran Reynolds

We dare to grumble about the exact rules we have to follow, or about the之称ions (Evelyn M 3. Sclar and Edith Edgewilde), of the Class of 1914, remember that the sneeze of every lady who lived at home, had to get permission from the Dean to go to the movies with her parents.

But there have been a lot of changes made since Mrs. Clark, the original Norma and Georgia Normal and Industrial College, as it was known then. These fine ladies have made it possible for several numbers of worthy students to go through college at W.C. Last year alone, the Association gave twelve outright scholarships. And by making available $1 for every $9 provided by the National Defense Education Act (N.D.E.A.) they helped place $58,000 in loans on the shoulders of the original 133 members of her class as she helps plan for the Fifty-first Anniversary of her graduation. Of the members she has heard from, over 465, have sent contributions to help the Association's various scholarships funds. That's quite a record, even for our "Classist."

In order to keep our graduates informed, and to give them an opportunity to visit the campus, W.C. decided to use the graduate assembly as the number of both students and alumnae attending these exercises grew, and the number of graduate students from W.C. increased, this became an awkward arrangement. So the monthly meetings of our departmental club bring us many opportunities to explore our widely-varied field with the help of numerous outstanding men.

A generalist now conducting experiments on heredity at Millidgeville State Hospital, Dr. Keeler was formerly a member of the staff at W.C. and of Harvard's School of Medicine. While at Harvard, he and his colleagues made names for themselves by being among the first geneticists, and studying the nul factor in heredity.

Other speakers during the year have been Dr. Henry Harsh, clinical psychologist; Mr. Thomas Broomer, a case worker at the State Training School; and Dr. Carl Sippelke, director of the new doctoral program in Clinical Psychology.

But our meetings aren't all of a technical nature. We started off the year with a glorious excursion to Lake Laurel. The May meeting will bring another opportunity of the same nature. The May meeting will bring another opportunity of the same nature.

Can't you imagine what fun it'll be when we can celebrate twenty-five- or fifty-year celebrations from dear old alma mater? We have a loving and loyal university spirit. This student body experiences during Golden Slippers days will bring us back to W.C., on alumni functions.

For next year, preparations will be underway as we think back the members of the Alumnae Association on days such as April 22, 1966.

IN THE NEXT ISSUE

REPORTS ON:

Mock Republican Convention, Rule Changes and Election Returns.

THE COLONNADE

April 17, 1966

SHOP -WISE

BY THE MAD-SHOPPER

There's always something interesting going on in Bees- on Street. The other night this delightful fragrance wafted its way out and tickled my nostrils-starved nose. Guess what was cooking? Onion rings. Delicious fritters French fried onion rings-wonderful. The last of these stuffing nights—can be found at Figgly Wiggly.

All of us have an innate love for peta, We never grow too old to hold a fuzzy kitty or chase a graceful pig around the house. Cordella's has ready—they're giving away goldfish to WC students! To get your own real live goldfish, all you have to do is clip out the coupon in the Colonnda and take it down to Cordell's. Then you will feel true contentment at having a pet of your very own.

And while you're up town picking up your goldfish, why not drop by Harrold's and take a look at their new spring shifts? After all, this is the time to be getting started on that new spring wardrobe. And, of course, an important part of any girl's wardrobe is her shoes. McMillan's Shoe Shop invites you to bring them your old worn-down shoes, particularly Weejuns; they will return them to you in tip-top shape.

Been wanting some new additions to your favorite charm bracelet? Well, now's the time to see Grant's new selection of charms. If you like them, the ones you like, you can always go back some other time.

It would be worth a special trip up town to take a look at the array of James sportswear at Vogue. You're sure to find many outfits to your liking.

Special hint for this week-end: the Millidgeville Flower Shop has all kinds of corrosives for the Spring Dance. Be sure to get the word about the W.C. flower arrangements.

And then, to round out a perfect week-end, the Campus Theatre invites you to see "Cabin Newman, M.D.," Playing Wednesday through Sunday.

Ree's Ramblins

By Linda McFarland

Do you like chocolate-topped现s? Baked potatoes? Toasted salads? Sounds of from now doesn't it? Would you like to know how you can get in on this lovely turn of events? Your Ree points. Most of us participate in some form of recreation, but we often forget about earning points for these activities. Next time, remember that you can start working on the 900 to 1000 points needed to qualify for a Fun emblem or a key, and be eligible for the emblem. Embroider Outfit and delicious neck support prepared in your taste by our expert Ree chefs. Congratulations are in order for two of our hard-working skill clubs. Penguin Club, which produces the programs as well as the programs, were as lovely as they were skilful in their presentations. They presented their annual water show. If you didn't catch last year's show and its dazzling finale, plan right now to attend this year's performance.

The Mental Dance Club and Dr. Ponderer realty deserves such recognition. They are sponsoring the and the University's University dance group on April 22. The graceful movements and the originality of these features were a great credit to the parents and Dr. Duggan, their director.

Representatives from Agnes Scott and Westmoreland were on campus Saturday, April 11, to participate in a Penguin Share Session. There were quite a few spectacles to watch these girls. It'll be fun to hear their stunts and routines.

It is still not too late to pick up and use the supplies and participate in the fun and enjoy the game. If you have not decided how to play, come to the hockey field Monday at 4:15 and Penny Calhoun, softball manager, will please you on a team.

Some of Ree's coming events this week include the showing of a movie and the participation of representatives from W.C. in a tennis play-day at the University of Georgia on Saturday, May 2. They will be competing against contestants from Furman, Wesleyan, and the University of Georgia.

Ree's has really been at work trying to provide numerous opportunities for recreation on campus. So, show your appreciation by participating in the fun.

(Cont. from page 4)

Include Trios by Mandelso- n, Beethoven and Schubert.

Members of the trio are Joan Cline, Lauren Cowles, and Margaret McFarland, head of the University music faculty. The Trio has won wide- spread recognition since it was organized in September of 1965.