Dance Week-End Planned
At WC's Russell Auditorium

On the twenty-second of January, Russell Auditorium will open at 8:00 p.m. to launch the gala Winter Dance weekend. The folk-singing trio, The Hunters, are the sensational entertainers of the evening. The group from New York was featured at Radio City Music Hall, where they were held over for eight weeks, and have performed several times on the "Tonight" show. Tickets are priced at $1.00 per person.

To complement the lively, informal program of Friday evening's entertainment, Music Professor Moe Bauer will perform on Saturday evening. The semi-formal affair to take place in the Pink Diamond Room offers music for all tastes, with popular songs by DJ Dana. Attendance is encouraged by the reduced ticket price of $3.50 for couple tickets to both nights. Because of the enthusiastic response to the Four Fools the school is helping the Junior and Senior classes sponsor these two fabled groups.

Psychology Club Holds
'Scoring Party' On Friday

The Psychology Club held a "scoring party" at the home of the sponsor, Dr. Francis Ross Hicks, on Thursday, January 6. The object of the girls' interest was the tests on Values taken by about 300 W.C. Students. An overall view of the testing may be obtained from Dr. Hicks or a member of the club at an early date. A student paper on this project will be presented at the psychology section of the 15th meeting of the Georgia Psychological Association when it meets at Jekyll Island. There is a possibility that several students will accompany Dr. Hicks to this meeting.

Another item of interest to the Psychology Department is the new course which is being taught for the first time this quarter. Taught by Dr. R. W. Wildman, the course is entitled Research Methodology, and is the only undergraduate course in research techniques taught on an undergraduate level in the State of Georgia. The students in the class are required to read a paper and carry out a research project. The course is under the supervision of Dr. Wildman.

Famed Pianist Presents Concert

On Tuesday, January 26, 1965, in Room 215-A at 8:00, the Community Concert Association will present Lee Lutvai, pianist. Mr. Lutvai, now 27, gave the initial recital in Washington D. C. and Cleveland, and made his debut with the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra a few years ago and has won tremendous acclaim since then. He has been in New York, Philadelphia, Montreal, Chicago, Louisville, Richmond and many other important music centers throughout the country. His impressive list of Sym- phonic guest appearances includes the New York Philharmonic, the Philadelphia Orchestra, the Symphony of the Air and many others. He is a graduate of the Curtis Institute of Music, Mr. Lutvai will feature selections from Beethoven, Chopin, Rachmaninoff and Liszt.

House Mother

Mrs. Margaret Ross-
Baard, instructor in The Depart- ment of Social Studies, has taken extra duties this quarter, Substituting for Miss Patti C. Bailey who is in Acting House Di- rector for Sondra Hall. Mrs. Colson has taken the three-month leave of ab- sence.

Moe Bauer says, "It really put our house in order. These women are wonderful and such fun to be with."
Editorials

Registration

The editorial staff of the Colonade would like to praise the atmosphere created by the Mardi Gras Parade and the Inaugural student council representatives. These initiatives have set a new standard for the school's future events and have demonstrated the importance of student engagement. We hope that this trend will continue, and we encourage all students to participate in future events.

Dead Week

There are plans on campus for Dead Week, a traditional observance of the upcoming holiday. This year, Dead Week will feature a variety of events and activities designed to celebrate the season and bring the community together.

New Student Center

While the construction on the new student center is still ongoing, we encourage all students to visit and explore the new facilities. The center will provide a space for students to gather, study, and socialize.

Assemblies

Three cheers for assemblies! How nice it is to have a variety of speakers and topics to choose from. ENDY! How exciting to discover that today's assembly speaker is none other than our own Mr. MacLeish! I was particularly impressed by his speech on the importance of education. I hope to see more of these assemblies in the future.

Reflections

I would like to express my thoughts on the new student center. While it is still under construction, I believe it will be a great addition to our school. I look forward to seeing the final product.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I hope this letter finds you well. I wanted to express my concerns about the new student center. I understand that it is still under construction, but I feel that the current state is not ideal. The walls are not yet painted, and the furniture is still being delivered. I understand that construction can be frustrating, but I believe that the school should prioritize the comfort and safety of its students.

Sincerely,
[Name]

Dear Editor,

I was particularly impressed by Mr. MacLeish's speech on the importance of education. He highlighted the need for students to take advantage of the resources available to them. I completely agree and believe that every student should strive to achieve their full potential.

Sincerely,

Mad Shopper Rides Again

Hi Jeannie! It certainly is nice to be back in Millbridgeville. I saw in the orchestra and took a trip around town to see what's neat.
I was quite surprised to find the new Paint 'n Putter Center in town. You girls can buy all of your supplies there. And if you've always wanted to paint but found it too expensive, you can try your luck with an excellent kit of tiles for only $3.94.

What about the Campus Theatre's Wednesday art movei! I hear that the dramas are empty on these days. The word from Eberhart's studio is that now is the time you have to have your Valentine picture made — don't wait too late!

I see the tornado left Chandler's intact. I know you're glad that all of the school supplies and greeting cards weren't blown away.

Mr. Godbold at Harold's already has some of his spring merchandise out, but I noticed that he's still going strong with those good looking London Fogs. When I stopped for my usual ice cream cone at Evans Pharmacy, Dr. Evans, told me that the "Falts Symphony" will be here February 2nd. Be plan to attend. And buy your ice cream cones at Evans (I was glad to see that the Feasans and Cadets still hang out at Grant's Restaurant. Have you tried their apple pie? It's delicious. Speaking of apple pie, I believe I'll go down and have some myself. Goodbye!

Summer Jobs In Europe

The opportunity has arvailed for summer travel in foreign countries. It is now possible to obtain jobs in France, Italy, German, Sweden, Holland, or Austria.

Already many students have made application for the various jobs. Jobs are made available by the government of these European-countries. Not only to work but also to take part in the actual life and to get into real living contact with the people and customs of Europe is a challenging opportunity. In most cases the employers have made special regard for American students. Hence they are per-informed students. Many of them want to make the student's work and stay in Europe as fulfilling as possible. In return for her work the student will receive a stipend and board, plus a wage. Further information and application forms can be obtained from: American-European Student-Service, Via Sanmario Santuari 23, Florence, Italy.

Computers Find Student Jobs

The QED Center at brown, New York, has a new electronic way of adding students to its staff. The computer matches the aptitudes, training, extracurricular interest and even special preferences of students. Computers, which automatically match qualifications with opportunities and employers all over the country, can instantly lead a student to the right-sized company for the preferred area of the country.

The complete service is available for $6, including forms, programming, data processing, analysis, and forwarding of selections to potential employers.

Peace Corps

And News

Mr. Steve Allen, a Peace Corps volunteer who serv-ered in Turkey, will visit the Women's College campus on Monday, January 18, and will be available for interviews during his visit.
Mr. Allen received his B.S. degree in economics from the University of Callifornia, and has served as a high school teacher in Cayton during 1962-64. Af-fter completing his Peace Corps service, he traveled through Jordan, Egypt, Sy-rria, Greece, Italy, England, and the Isle of Rhodes. More information may be found in the old post office section of the Student Union.

Glamour Contest

The Colonnade will soon be involved in a contest to help find the "The Best Dressed College Girls for 1963."

The contest is being held by Glamour magazine, whose staff will select the "best dressed" student from the winners at each college. One girl will be selected to represent each college participating.

According to Glamour, the contest is to "show college women that the development of good taste and good grooming is an integral part of an education that results in a well-rounded mind. We respect and are looking for an intelligent, imaginative approach to one's appearance — not an extensive or costly wardrobe. We wish the young woman who enjoys her looks without being preocupied with them."

This information on this contest will be publiished in the Colonnade.

Miss Aurora

Recently announced were class representatives to the Miss Aurora Court. Senior class representa-tees are Anne Marie Spar-rrow, Betty Ann Bailey, and Jackie Sagers. From the junior class are Mary Beard and Gloria Stribling. The sophomore chosen to represent them was MSH Patients

members do this from $45 to $50 on designated days. The patients must pay for the seminars and have a patient presentation project. All this work is done with the cooperation of the hospital. It is certainly a worthwhile program that is taken by the students of the Women's College, who are well worth the effort. The members of these organizations were at first dubious about accepting the responsibility that encompassed this project, but over the years they have really realized that this program brings a rewarding challenge to all concerned. Not only does

Selectees

Janice McLeary and Sara Ann George while Kay Templeton and Barbara Alexander will be the freshman members of the court. At the Spring Dance Miss Aurora, who is chosen from the three senior candidates, will be crowned, with all the other class representatives making up her royal court.

The hospital appreciates such interest and concern but also the students derive a great deal of satisfaction from it.

If you would like to take part in this project, you may sign up in your department, and later on you will be contacted concerning all the details.

Rec's Rambling

Who says Winter Quarters is traditionally dead quarter? Miss Stock-in-the-maid maybe or Miss

Afraid-of-Gold-Weather. Dave has many exciting plans to make this quarter more interesting and fun.

Basketball intramurals are held every Monday and Wednesday afternoons in the big gym at 7:00. The competition is between classes and the pace will be fast and furious. For those who do not actually like to play, there is plenty of room to sit and watch.

Penguin Club will have an active quarter also. They will take part in the South End Aquatic Art Festival held May 21-23. Look for the annual Penguin Bonfire at the end of the quarter.

Modern Dance is working hard, getting ready for their demonstration February 15. We hope all students will enjoy this free performance.

There will also be movies and co-ed pool nights. We sincerely hope that you will find lots of things to interest you in our time-table of events.
