RINE W. C. STUDENTS TO STUDY IN FRANCE DURING SUMMER

Nine students of The Woman's Col- lege have been selected to study the French language in France this summer as part of the first annual "Study Abroad" program sponsored by the Board of Regents of the University System, according to Mrs. Mol- ly Thomas who is in charge of the Rhodes and Guggenheim funds.

This program is an innovation in language education. This summer will serve as a beginning, and it will be contin- ued annually from now on.

According to Mrs. Thomas, two countries are involved in this summer's "Study Abroad" program. The students will go to the University of Paris in the German language. They will also live with a selected German family.

Twenty Georgia students will receive the University of Rio in France, France to study the French language. The students will also make a second trip to cities of interest in Europe during which they will visit Paris, France and Switzerland.

The students who are interested in the program will receive their travel grants from the Board of Regents and a special certificate of the university at which they study.

Mrs. Thomas stated that twenty-seven applications were submitted for consideration to study in France. Of these the Woman's College submitted applications were, as follows, Dawn Baker, Meredy Griffith, Mary Ann Lockwood, Jean Wall, Louise Rigney, Jessie Lynn Wilson, Paty Thompson, Carole Smith, Ann Willis, There were so many activities that need to be included every year, and one of them was the theater (illustrated by setting, lights, etc.).
Ultimately, they decided to develop a musical theater group in the classroom to give the students a more realistic idea of how a theater scheduling involves many tasks. The drama class was given the opportunity to direct the play, but also the opportunity to work on some new projects and programs. Moreover, an additional element was added: if the students were interested, they could be trained to assist in the technical areas. It is only aptly used in the educational process, because it allows them to learn in different ways.

Once upon a time it is essential that she was good at being a student at the Women's College because she was getting a good marks and paper turned around several weeks before. Since then she's been "fully-by-the-way." Certainly, the valedictory speech did not occur in the Whistling Dapper that has been going on since second grade. Not only did she have to
