Behold - The New Thing

This past weekend about sixty students representing CCA, CA, and the JA's attended a retreat at Rock Eagle. They left from the circle at 12:30 p.m. Saturday and returned after lunch Sunday. The theme for this year's retreat was "Behold - The New Thing," at the first General Meeting the speaker was Miss Ruth Montgomery, Associate Dean of Women at Emory University. Miss Montgomery's topic was "What is New on College Campuses Today." Miss Montgomery listed such problems on campuses as in two parents (college acting as parents), changes in academic reform (abolishment of core curriculum), and students' challenging of traditions. She said she felt these problems are just, but many times the means and ends are mis-directed. She stated that the healing of social regulations must be accompanied by counsel and close consideration. The main point of her speech was that as we seek to evaluate we must (1) ask individuals to take more responsibility and (2) create a framework in which individual responsibility is feasible. After lunch there were meanings: CA, RBC and CCA with the JA's field (Cont. on page 4)

Honors Day

The eighteenth annual observance of Honors Day at Georgia College was held, Thursday, May 1, 1969. The highlights of the program held in Russ- ell were the recognition of the members of Phi Sigma and Phoenix and the presentation of the Distinguished Service Award, with a speech by the recipient, and the Martha Eileen Shirley Scholarship Award.

Phi Sigma is a society consisting of sophomores who, during their freshman year, maintained a B average and were named to the Dean's List at least once. The highest academic honors at Georgia College, Phoenix includes the top seven percent of the senior class. The thirty members of Phi Sigma and the twenty- eight members of Phoenix were presented by Dean Christian. A. May- moore, the senior Honors Day continues to be a major event in the college calendar. Each year it is held on the first Thursday in May to celebrate the academic achievements of the students. The program includes recognition of students who have achieved high academic standing, as well as the presentation of various awards and scholarships. This year, Phi Sigma and Phoenix were honored, with the presentation of the Distinguished Service Award and the Martha Eileen Shirley Scholarship Award.

Saturday night, May 10, the Freshman and Sopho- more classes are spon- soring the annual Spring Dance which will be held on the commons area in front of Lasser from eight to twelve p.m. The band scheduled for this year's Spring Dance is "The O'Kaysions," who made "What's New on College Campuses Today," and the decorations committee has been working hard with plans to change the dance area into the streets of New Orleans. Such places as the restaurant "Pat O'Brien's" and the well- known "House of the Rin- sing Sun" will be set at the dance.

Tickets for the dance are free to people and $3.00 for students. The tickets are on sale in the SU each day from 10-11 a.m. and 12 p.m. Everyone is asked to en- sure that there are no tickets available.

"Luv" Is Coming

"Luv" will be presented on the stage of Russell Auditorium. "Luv," a comedy all about the agon- eies of love and marriage, was a triumphant hit on Broadway and is coming from our College Thea- ter's productions thus far this year. It will be equally as successful here. Don't forget to go by the Student Union for your tickets, which will go on sale next Wedsday, May 7th. Student Union will set their tickets by showing their ID's; other tickets are $5.00. All tickets should be reserved.

New Presidents Interviewed-Page 7
New Government For GC

The recent poll seeking the majority student opinion on what form a Student Government should take has indicated the general student preference for a new form of government in a formal organization. This poll, conducted by the College Government Constitution and Revisions Committee, presents a diverse array of responses to the questions raised by students on campus. The results of the committee's work is a new form of government, a Students Assembly, which will be submitted to the student body for approval. The majority of students favor this new form, and it is expected that the new government will be put into effect as soon as possible.

A Look At College Leaders

By Dr. William H. Lathem

Gail Presley, May, Rose Blatt, Troy Huffman and Owen Wood, are all students at George College and State University. They have been elected to the Student Senate, and are currently serving as its leaders. Their main goal is to represent the voices of the students and work towards improving campus life for everyone. They have been very active in their roles, and are always ready to listen to the concerns of their fellow students. They are working hard to ensure that the Student Senate is a place where everyone's voice is heard and that the needs of the students are met.

Business Day Offers Degree

A program leading to a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration is being offered by the College of Business Administration. The program is designed to provide students with a strong foundation in business principles and practices. Students will be able to choose from a variety of concentrations, including Finance, Marketing, and Management. Upon completion of the program, students will receive a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration.

Surprise Present!!!

President's Report

By Gail Presley

The new government for GC is not the only thing that is happening on campus this week. We have a new president, the President of the Student Senate, and she is bringing some surprises to campus.

"The New Thing" is the name of the new president of the Student Senate. She is a very enthusiastic and energetic leader, and she is ready to take on the challenges of her new position. She has already begun working on some new initiatives to improve campus life for everyone.

For many people, athletics is an integral part of their college experience. The new president of the Student Senate is committed to supporting athletic programs, and she has already begun working on some new initiatives to improve athletic programs. She is working closely with the athletic department to ensure that the needs of the student-athletes are met.

For the first time in history, a woman is leading the Student Senate. This is a major milestone for the college, and it is a reflection of the progress that has been made in terms of gender equality on campus.

In addition to the new president, there are a number of other changes happening on campus this week. The Student Senate is working on a number of new initiatives to improve campus life for everyone.

We are also pleased to announce the formation of a new campus newspaper, "The Collegian." This newspaper will provide students with a platform to express their opinions and share their experiences. We believe that this is an important step towards a more open and transparent campus environment.

We want to thank all of the students who have contributed to the success of these initiatives. We are confident that these changes will have a positive impact on the lives of our students and on the future of our college.

Please let us know if you have any questions or concerns. We are always here to listen and to work towards improving campus life for everyone.
Behold - The New Thing

In 1969, the College community underwent significant changes, particularly in the areas of student life and administration. The new College administration, led by the President and his team, faced several challenges and opportunities to improve the student experience. The changes were aimed at enhancing the quality of life for students, improving facilities, and addressing the needs of the student body.

The changes were influenced by the President's vision and the input from the students and faculty. The College was taking a proactive approach to solving problems and implementing new ideas. The administration's goal was to create a more engaging and supportive environment for the students.

The new administration made significant efforts to involve students in decision-making processes. This approach was aimed at fostering a sense of ownership and responsibility among the student body.

The changes were not without challenges. The administration had to address student concerns and ensure that the new initiatives were aligned with the students' needs. The College's goal was to build on the existing strengths and address the gaps in the student experience.

Future Plans Of CA And REC

CA Plans For Future

By Stanley Constant

The Future plans of CA and REC will have several main goals for the upcoming year to ensure a successful and energetic atmosphere for students. These goals will be achieved through a variety of programs and events planned for the year. The CA plans to hold several events throughout the year to promote community involvement and enhance student engagement. REC plans to introduce new recreational opportunities and improve existing facilities. Both organizations aim to create a vibrant and inclusive environment for all students on campus.

Rec Happening's

Well, I made it— the Basketball season is underway, but the plans we made for next year are still with us. We settled down to our shopping promptly at 5:00 Saturday afternoon. The day was warm and sunny with a breeze blowing through the windows. The first thing on the agenda was our guest speaker, Dr. Bunting, who led the privilege to introduce, "After having looked at a Spring Thing. Keep your eyes and ears open for more about this great school."
The warmest was our plan to expand a larger and more rewarding program. Preparations are being made for a spring— faculty talent show, and we hope that the audience will continue to grow, and new audiences will be formed for the next year. We hope to see great things in the future with more space, more audiences, more and more for you and me.

Softball Game season.

Of course, those plans haven't been finalized, and not all that we should offer will be offered. There will be many to do, much to become involved in. We hope to offer the same chance in the coming year and we hope that you will support us. The Recruit was a lot of fun, and more meetings— I'm glad I'm back, but now we're to take a breath before an exciting new year stretches before us.

Prospective Teachers

Mr. Dan Night, Principal of Waynes High School, will be on campus Thursday, May 6 to interview prospective teachers. He will be in the office of the Finance and Placement committee.
Mayhem At Agnes Scott

Chaos ran wild when the Georgia College "Colostatics" (The Girls' Tennis Team) invaded Agnes Scott College in Atlanta last Tuesday. Beneath Sandy Lane's mighty stand on foreign ground a crumbling opponent (in sets of 6-3 and 6-0) but in 2 singles, Scott of Agnes Scott in a frantic frenzy flattened over Noelle Head in a match 6-3, 6-1. Robbie Woodruff strayed down her rival stiff when she pressed her #3 singles with scores of 6-0, 6-4. Nancy Hooper momentarily was tangling in the barmbles of a split set, but as usual, eased out of the sticky situation resulting in 6-4, 6-3, 6-2 for G.C. Playing #3 singles, Diane Seigle made her Agnes-Scott conquest with only one casualty in 6-0, 6-1 sec. In an advance to the rear, our top four girls challenged the opponents left standing for the double events. Victory by Agnes Scott in #4 doubles rang their ego with generous spikes of 6-3, 6-5, Woodruff and Hooper, notorious on the doubles front, bombarded Cooca & Corbin Bass WeeJuins
