Saturday’s Marathon To Feature Shadowell; Trophy

Saturday morning at 9:30, at least one hundred GC students will line up. Solons, who are parking list and begin a reunion in Shadowell, some 12.5 miles away, on behalf of the American Cancer Society. After collecting contributions from the members of the race, the group will follow highway 18 and accept the contributions of people living along their route. A similar group will leave Macon and the two delegations will meet in Shadowell, near the base. At the joint meeting, a trophy will be presented to the club, group, or dormitory from each school with the greatest number of participants.

As an aid to the marchers, the Milledgeville Coca-Cola Bottling Company will provide free water at the seven-mile mark and almost eighteen miles of the course.

Competitors for the trophy, to be awarded to the school whose marchers will also continue the race. Those of reporting at press time, the leading contenders are Adams Dorm and Terrell Hall, with thirty-five and forty-four miles to go, respectively. Although of course the final tally of the marchers, the marchers will be those marching. Also reporting are the Young Men’s Club, the Physical Education Association for men, with twelve marchers.

Meyer Explains Fee Increase

The tuition fees for fall quarter 1970 will be increased as stated by the Board of Directors of the University System in a release received in the Western Reporter. Mr. Herbert Meyer, Comptroller of Georgia College and the student body, will show them the Society activities which will convene in 1970.

At the last meeting of the Dean’s Search Committee in the President’s Office, the various researces of additional candidatures were reviewed and discussed. At the same time the Chairperson for having the additional candidatures for the position were discussed. Although the final listing of criteria was available the Committee felt that the best statement to use was the one approved for the recently revised Statutes of Georgia College. The statement reads in part as follows—

ARTICLE III. THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICERS

The primary administrative officers are appointed directly to the President for the purposes of the university respectively are: the Dean of the College, the Comptroller; the Dean of the College, the Director of Admissions and Registrar; and the Director of Public and College Services.

The President recommends to the Board of Trustees the above positions and other administrative positions to which it shall be responsible for the President. The index to which the Board is responsible is as follows: Section 1. The Dean of the College.

The President is responsible in each case of the Board to the President. In all cases the President, without his consent, shall be the acting executive officer of the university.

The President has responsibility in the Board of the Director of the Library, the Director of Graduate Studies, and the Chairman of academic departments.

A candidate for any elected position within this field and seven other are more are available during the last few weeks.

Unrestricted Curfew For Frosh? No!

When a young girl comes to college she is placed in a new environment where she is her own boss in areas of study habits and choice of friends. The adjustments that must be made in this new atmosphere require time and varied experiences. In order that college life can be a good experience ability freedom should not be given immediately.

The Student Senate passed a resolution Tuesday, April 7 stating that second and third quarter freshmen should have unrestricted curfew with parental permission as do upperclassmen. This is giving them that absolute freedom; a freedom that we do not feel they are capable of handling during their first year of adjustment.

Georgia College is one of the most progressive colleges in the state in that more freedoms have been given to more women students in the shortest amount of time on record. But there seems to be a time when action should level off. We believe this is the time.

The maturity, or rather immaturity, of so many freshmen on campus today speaks better than any argument we might give. Also before people are given rights they must be mature enough to accept responsibility and must have firmly developed a discipline code by which they live. Some college behavior do not meet these qualifications so how could anyone expect the majority of college freshmen to be so mature?

Another interesting point is that the resolution was proposed by a male senator and the majority of the votes that went to Senata-Faculty Committee came from the male senators. This might possibly be interpreted that the more are interesting in securing unrestricted curfew for women students are than the female students themselves.

The Editorial Board strongly urges the Student Facult Committee, who will make the final decision, to consider carefully and es to expect that basis of freshman, as a rule, are not responsible enough to go out and样 curfew.

Volts & Notes

I would like to compliment the Student Senate on their recent action of The Declaration of Students Rights. Now I hope everyone will become aware of his and hers rights and utilize a very well thought-out plan that is sure to make an impact on everyone who attends. See story on page 3.

Alumni Day has been set for Saturday, April 17. Everyone is encouraged to stay that weekend, especially alumni, to meet and welcome the alumni guests. See story on page 3.

If anyone has a disagreement, a gripe or just something to say, send letters to the Editor to Box 306, 525 North College Street. P.M. for Thursday's newspaper. All letters must be signed but name will be withheld on request. They are subject to editing for its policies and space limitations of The Colonade.

Campus In The Round

Your Home Away From Home

By Eugene Nesbitt

Last week we talked about student rights being for some students. Now we will talk about the lack of studying in rules and regulations, and their importance even in college dormitories.

Responsible campus any social club rules for rules and regulations to ensure the safety, quietness, and comfort of the student dormitories. Rules that are subject to the responsibility of each student.

College dormitories should respect the rights and regulations of the roommates. Our college dormitories should take the rules and regulations for the roommates, and even the rules that are subject to the responsibility of the roommates.

Deaton Says GC Must Progress

Dr. Thomas M. Deaton, one of our professors of history, is from Memphis, Tennessee. He received his AB at Mississippi College, his MA at the University of Georgia with his thesis on "Georgia and the Annexation of Texas", his PhD at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, and his PhD from the University of Georgia with a dissertation on "Atlanta During the Progressive Era.

Not only is Dr. Deaton involved in campus activities but he is also involved in local activities. Among these is his membership in the Board of Directors of the Milligrove Little Theaters. He has several publications to his credit. Among these are "A Short History of the United States" which he is co-author of, and "Atlantic in the Early Twentieth Century." Looking into the future, he is hoping to turn his dissertation into two books. Dr. Deaton states that he is an Urban Historian. He investigates the history of cities. His specialty is Atlanta between 1900-1930.

Dr. Deaton has done a lot of traveling. He has been to 15 countries. His favorite city is Rome, Italy and his second favorite is Bottenburg, Germany. He was very picturesque in his talk about this town. It was almost as if one could see it when he spoke of "this fabulous community in a romantic area of Germany."

Dr. Deaton has a Bachelor of Divinity and at one time was active in the ministry. When asked why he left it he said that he wished to help people not just preach at them and that he could do that anywhere. He sincerely wishes to help kids and is interested in their problems and ideas.

This is Dr. Deaton's third year here. When asked about the college, he likes the people and the college personnel. "I think they have a good relationship with one another."

Also, the college is small enough that the student-faculty ratio is not too big. When asked how he would like to change Georgia College he said, "I would move the college forward with all deliberate speed. That is change is not automatically good but it is inevitable. If we can get the board and from under the view of the "Old Guard" it can progress."

MRS. BAUGH STRESSES QUALITY

Mrs. Baugh is quite an active member of the Georgia College community. She is a starter member of the Milligrove Arts Association, and is presently serving as corresponding secretary. She is on the board of Milligrove's Little Theatre.

Mrs. Baugh is president of the Milligrove Garden Club Council and is second vice-president of the Carrington Woods Garden Club. (She has served as president three times.)

Highly interested in art, Mrs. Baugh worked several years as an Art and Garden Therapy Volunteer at Central State Hospital. In addition, she taught in the Art Department of Baldwin County High School and in the Georgia College Art Department. She is also a member of the Pan St. Pet Group.
