Regents Award $1.5 Million Dorm Contract

A $1.5 million dollar contract has been awarded to Jordan Contracting Company of Columbus for construction of a new dormitory complex at Georgia College at Milledgeville. The action was taken at the April meeting of the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia. Jordan's bid of $1,500,000 was the lowest submitted for the project, which is to be completed in 90 days.

The dormitory complex, designed by the architectural firm of Cunningham and Parkehed, Atlanta, will be located on Northwoods area of Clark Street, just south of the Sanford Hall parking lot. It will consist of three interconnected buildings, one containing rooms for students and the other providing space for the director's apartment, a kitchen, study rooms and recreation areas.

College officials said the structure's design will permit its use as either a men's dormitory or a coeducational dormitory, depending on the individual requirements of the student body of any given time. Georgia College is currently enjoying its own construction boom. Work is now underway on a $1.5 million dollar student center; funds have been authorized for construction on the first phase of an athletic complex, and a contract is expected to be awarded shortly for a one-million dollar addition to Bragg's science building.

The construction activity is in response to the institution's rapid growth since becoming coeducational in 1962.

Senators Approve Declaration;
Discusses Attendance Rule

Senator President Susan Jackson called the meeting to order Monday night, and the first order of business was the presentation of the proposed CGA Cabinet, submitted by CGA President Dean Ham. All members of the cabinet were approved unanimously. They are: Secretary of Student Information and Education—Carme Calvert; Secretary of Finance—Bixley Brook; Secretary of Financial Affairs—Donna Palmetto; Secretary of Community Affairs—Angela Preston; Secretary of Academic Affairs—Neffy Clayton; and Secretary of Student Activities—Roy Head.

Also unanimously approved as a slate were the members of the president's committees and councils of the college. They are as follows:

President's Council—Tom Bailey, Suzanne Hess, Peter Perry
Academic Council—Ann Ellin, Ralph Piter, Ken Good
Faculty Council on Student Affairs—Charles Brown, Stanley Long, Bill Smith, Elmer Wray
Faculty Council on Athletics—Steve Blair, Charles Winfield, Ann Woll, Jimmy Whitman,
Admissions Council—Roy Williams, George Partch, Angela Gay
Student Senate—Mike Givens gave a report from the rules committee which included a recommendation that the senate provide for a system of recall of senators by their constituency. The Senate acted on another recommendation of the committee, that an amendment be made to Senate Bill No. 10 (Electoral Procedure) to the effect that notice shall be placed on the first public board of all academic buildings to notify students of upcoming elections.

Honors Day Will Recognize Bonner

A schedule has been announced for the observance of Honors Day, 1979, at Georgia College at Milledgeville. Among the day's events will be the presentation of the GC Distinguished Service Award to Dr. J. C. Bonner and recognition of the new members of the Phoenix Scholastic Honor Society.

Activities will begin at 10 a.m. with an honors coffee for Dr. Bonner, his guests, the Phoenix members and their parents. A ceremony of recognition of students will start at 11:30 a.m. in Russell Auditorium.

A Dutch breakfast will be held at 12:05 in the college dining hall, and normal class activities will resume at 1:30 p.m. Bonner was invited to receive the Distinguished Service Award at recognition of his service to Georgia and his community as one of the state's leading historians.

He served for 25 years as professor of history and chairman of the department of history and political science at Georgia College, retiring last year. He is the author or co-author of nine books and has written nearly thirty articles for scholarly journals in the field of history.

He has also written eleven articles for the Encyclopaedia Britannica, including the sections on Georgia.

Bonner has served as chairman of the University System of Georgia Committee on Faculty Research and Graduate Study, as a member of the Georgia Historical Commission, and as secretary-treasurer of the Library Association of Georgia.

The historian has also served as Governor of the Georgia Province of Phi Gamma Mu, a national social science honor fraternity.

He has many awards and honors which have included West Georgia College's Founder Award and a Georgia College Foundation Distinguished Professorship for 1960.

A native of Heard County, Georgia, he received his A.B. and M.A. degrees from the University of Georgia, and the Ph.D. from the University of North Carolina.

His teaching career began with a position as principal of Cove Spring High School. He later served as a teacher, instructor and assistant principal of West Georgia College, director of Student Activities, acting director of Student Activities, director of Student Activities and, finally, acting director of Student Activities.

(Cont. on page 4)
Marathon Proves Fun, Profitable

The COLONNADE

Second Front

The Colonade, student newspaper, was established as a public service to provide news coverage of events and features important to the students of Georgia College. It was not created by a group of students who had nothing better to do nor by students who had their goal the expenditure of thousands of dollars billed them by the college. Presently there are ten students who spend many hours each week providing this public service. First there is the staff meeting every Monday night where assignments are made and the editorial for the week is decided. Then the staff goes about their work, collecting facts, selling ads, writing and typing stories. Then a copy of the article has to be figured, which includes counting the words in every story. Then the layout of make-up of the week's paper is drawn down. All this is completed by Wednesday night. A good week's pull of pages is about 36 hours a week. The staff works to keep the newspaper in circulation. The college has no funds at all for the newspaper which is printed in the local printing plant.

The summer staff members for two weeks and not one person has expressed verbal concern, much less attended a staff meeting.Ồ.  Then there was the matter of the newspaper. Once typed the articles must be read for grammatical typographical errors. Then column inches for each article have to be figured, which includes counting the words in every story. Then, the layout of make-up of the week's paper is drawn down. All this is completed by Wednesday night. A good week's pull of pages is about 36 hours a week. The staff works to keep the newspaper in circulation. The college has no funds at all for the newspaper which is printed in the local printing plant.

For the Students and By the Students

The Colonade, student newspaper, was established as a public service to provide news coverage of events and features important to the students of Georgia College. It was not created by a group of students who had nothing better to do nor by students who had their goal the expenditure of thousands of dollars billed them by the college. Presently there are ten students who spend many hours each week providing this public service. First there is the staff meeting every Monday night where assignments are made and the editorial for the week is decided. Then the staff goes about their work, collecting facts, selling ads, writing and typing stories. Then a copy of the article has to be figured, which includes counting the words in every story. Then the layout of make-up of the week's paper is drawn down. All this is completed by Wednesday night. A good week's pull of pages is about 36 hours a week. The staff works to keep the newspaper in circulation. The college has no funds at all for the newspaper which is printed in the local printing plant.
Face In The Crowd

Brassel Enthusiastic About GC

Charles Brassel, an instructor of music at the University of Georgia, was recently named director of music at the University of Texas at Arlington. He previously served as director of music at the University of Georgia for 10 years.

The University of Georgia has expanded its music program in recent years, with the addition of new faculty positions and the creation of new music programs. Brassel's appointment is a significant development for the university, as he brings a wealth of experience and talent to the position.

Alumni Day 1970

Yesterday, Today, And Tomorrow

Gertrude Ehrlich Wins Achievement Award

The observance of Alumni Day, 1970, has been set for Thursday, May 12, at Georgia College of Milledgeville. The observance will be highlighted by the presentation of the 1970 Alumni Achievement Awards to Mrs. B. L. Ehrlich, and to the annual President's Thiamreak Award by Georgia College President W. H. Scobey.

The observance of Alumni Day will begin at 1 p.m. with the annual business meeting of the Alumni Association. After the meeting, the observance will continue with a reception in the auditorium befor the observance of Alumni Day.

The observance of Alumni Day will be followed by a special dinner at the College Inn. The dinner will be attended by the observance of Alumni Day, and the observance of Alumni Day will be followed by a special dinner at the College Inn.

To forget the past is to forget the future.

Mao
Milledgeville's Spring Fever Queen Will Reign Saturday

Heritage House LTD.

You Are Invited To Our Autograph Party,
From 2:30 To 4:00 p.m.
On Tuesday, May 5th, Featuring
CELESTINE SIBLEY
Author of "Mothers Are Always Special."
That special place for that special gift...
For Mother's Day, May 10th

Send George Washington to Viet Nam

Art Educators to Meet at GC

Baseball Team Loses To Augusta

The Georgia College baseball team had given up the dream of being in the playoffs but on Saturday the Yellow Jackets managed to knock off the second-best team in the nation. The team was playing in their home field at Augusta, Ga., and against a team ranked in the top five nationally. The Yellow Jackets were the winners, while Clarke Hall earned the loss.

Wrestling To Come

Professional wrestling returns to Milledgeville and when Fred Ward and Choo-Choo Lynn present another show next weekend at the Augusta Civic Center. The wrestling will be held on the main event and is scheduled for August 15.

Darst To Judge

The next book will be held in the Lessee Society for the Georgia College. The purpose of the event is to select new members for the World University Games in August and the World Games in October. Mr. Darst is assistant professor of English, physical education and recreation.

Flower Mound

The spring plant sale will be held at the school on Saturday, April 22, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The sale will feature a variety of plants, flowers, and gardening supplies. A portion of the proceeds will be donated to the local wildlife conservation organization.

The James House

Breakfast Lunch Dinner Sandwhiches & Steaks
Open 6 AM Till 9 PM 112 W. Hancock Downtown Milledgeville

Milledgeville's Spring Fever Queen Will Reign Saturday

The Georgia College Circle K is scheduled to hold a coronation with the Circle K Club of Georgia College in Milledgeville to crown a Spring Fever Queen on Saturday, April 22, at 6 p.m. The coronation will be held at the College of Georgia in Milledgeville.

Each of the students competing will be chosen by a group of judges based on their favorite candidate by voting at any of the three events at their school and make a pledge for their favorite girl or guy.

Local merchants and citizens are reminded that they may vote for their favorite candidate by voting at any of the three events at their school and make a pledge for their favorite girl or guy.

SU Report

Stresses Progress

The College Union building has now graduated from just a large box in the campus, and is ready to take its place as a major part of the college. The variety of construction details, with Mr. W.W. Bridges, the resident engineer and superintendent, and Mr. Wm. Clark, superintendent, have been planned to present approximately 230 person working on the site. These include plumbers, and concrete masons.

Lower lines are being installed and construction and support systems are being installed.

II. Clark's office is still unsettled, but a major part of the building has been completed. The new office is expected to be completed in time for the spring semester.
Earth Day: A Tribute To The Environment

Jon States opened the Earth Day ceremony Thursday night in Russell Auditorium with an invitation and a statement of the purpose of Earth Day. He said "Earth Day seeks to future worth living. Earth Day seeks a future. We say there are more important things than comfortable living, split-level homes, Social Security. Two cars in every garage." Mr. States told the approximately seventy-five students who attended the program.

Music was next provided by Dave Perkins and his band, who presented "A Whiner's Guide of Fate." "We're very honored that they asked us to play at the Earth Day ceremony, because we believe in it," Perkins said.

Professor John V. Allif of the Biology Department explained a historical outlook toward Nature from the viewpoint of man to the modern age. After describing some of the chemicals produced by industry which do pollute the air, he showed several slides of polluted areas near Millidgeville and ended with his ideas of how to resolve the problem.

The next item on the program was the presentation of the song "Air" from Hair, shyly sung by Dean William K. Littleton and Director of Admissions Mr. Cox. Mrs. Cox's voice was as enjoyable by the audience.

Dr. William M. Headly, M.D. of Millidgeville, described some statistics of pollution in Georgia, especially the Oconee River. He also explained that a new sewage plant under construction near the Oconee will treat the seven million gallons of waste that pollutes the river's fourteen and a half million gallons of water daily. He said that the environmental situation in Millidgeville and in all of Georgia was quite better than in many other places, and that the outlook for Millidgeville was very good. Dr. Perry read Thoreau's "Pine Tree," a selection from Walden. Beauty of nature was as much emphasized in his smooth melodic voice as in the words he read.

Dean Littleton and Mr. Cox gave a delightful presentation of "Air," from the musical Hair.

An original version of "On A Clear Day" was sung by Linda Thurmond, and Lew Waldon presented a brief discussion on noise pollution.

Then a very strange thing happened. The coffin, full of empty beer cans and cigarette packs, had silently lain the side of the stage during the program, was emptied of its human contents. An unidentified GC student ran from the casket and walked haphazardly if his stiff legs held up the stage.

Dr. Tom Davis gave the ecology of a dying world. He gave it with sorrow and perhaps a touch of bitterness for the death of the planet. Earth was so tragically unnecessary.