The anti-war demonstrations that swept college campuses when President Nixon ordered U.S. troops to invade com-enough to bring into question the internal survival of the United States. Poor students killed at Kent State, two killed at Jackson State, and a boycott attack at the State University of New Mexico, all the background of recently burned buildings and disruptions of academic learning activities brought about by race ac-down the universities. Indeed, they

Will Frosh
Be Rats?

May is the month for putting the finishing touches on another academic year and laying down definite plans for the upcoming fall quarter. Among the important plans now being considered is that of freshman orientation. For the past two years it has been the practice to have all entering freshmen and transfer students come to a two day orientation program in the summer. For next year that practice is being abandoned. All new students will arrive on campus Sunday in September for a period reserved for registration and acquaintances with college life. The next week begins a semester which is deeply etched in each fresh-man's mind forever—Freshman Week. This along with the orientation program is handled by the Junior Advisors for the female students and for the males by male upperclassmen who reside in the men's freshman residence hall.
The Junior Advisors are nominated in an open election by the girls of the junior junior class. Their choice is then reviewed by the executive council who check and see if the candidates received the required 2.6 average and have the canonical years in the selection of the girls. The J.A.'s for next years have been chosen and have already begun planning for the fall quarter. There will definitely be some changes made regarding rating during the academic year and a program of concentrated activities begin on a Friday evening and be over by the next tight in being considered. A final decision regarding modifications has not been reached but the proposed plans show a great improvement over past practices. Perhaps

Senators Urge Passage Of
"Amendment To End The War"

Voice your opinion now. To facilitate the nation-wide door-de-door canvassing operation, a petition drive in support of the Amendment to End the War is now taking place at Georgia College. The petition table will be located in the Student Union to day Tuesday and in front of Laney all day Friday. You are also urged to write your Senators and Representatives.

Dear Friends:
We share the sense of outrage which you and other Americans feel over the war in Southeast Asia. The recent invasion of Cambodia and the repercussions of bombing of North Vietnam are not the least in a long series of actions that mean more anguish and destruction on all sides. We also share your sense of frustration in seeking to halt this endless war and senseless policy. We believe it is time Congress played the role assigned it by the Constitution is determining our involvement in military adventures abroad.
This leadership role is ad-mistly meaningful.
This blame of leadership has had tragic results. We are shocked and alarmed by the terror that occurred at Kent State on Monday. We share a sense of guilt because of the loss of life orable provided by the Congress of the United States back in 1961. We hope our present effort will provide a meaningful alternative.
We urge you to direct your efforts to supporting Congressional action to cut off further funds for Southeast Asia except for the purpose of withdrawing troops safely and automatically, the exchange of prisoners, and anything for Vietnamese war, might be

I had a dream....

I used the forecast arms of the other side. I knew that George College's campus would be the way it should be this quarter. I dreamt of me every afternoon studying and every night reviewing notes and preparing lessons to be taught. I had to beat myself to study for an阶梯状 exam on electrical com-

"Let It Be"

Phoebus and James Allen have been music for his whole life. James Allen's music has been a part of his life since he was a child. He has been playing the guitar for as long as he can remember. His music has always been a source of comfort and inspiration for him. He has written and performed many songs over the years, and he continues to create new music that speaks to his experiences and emotions. His music is a reflection of his journey and a testament to his strength and resilience. His music has touched the lives of many and has inspired them to persevere through their own challenges. James Allen's music is a powerful reminder that we are all capable of overcoming obstacles and finding hope in even the darkest of times.
Ennis B Wins Final Softball Game

Powerful and rugged Ennis B topped the usually victorious Ennis A in the final softball contest of the men’s intramural softball season. On May 14, last Thursday, beginning at 4:45, it took a 9-6 over a Ralph Payton caught the final ball that got Ennis A out and won the game for his team. Ennis B. Ben Groch of B got the only home run for his team in the game. Lainie Mazin is credited with an exceptional pitching game, while Jerry Whitmeyer is named as the best general batters, not only for this game, but the whole season. The combo of tough Tim Walker and David Ennis, former for their double play combination, never got to see the batter, but they tried. Ed Laeter and Dan Higginbotham hit several doubles, with an assist from Kevin Fregas. John Colakatic made a line catcher, Mace Hudson played a great second base. Big Garrey Brodin made several fine plays for the winning team!

Pseudowoman has caused a great deal of comment - some good and some bad, so once again I will tell you (the students) the affairs of Pseudowoman for the past week.

First Pseudowoman received a letter from an interested reader, who agrees with me that Pseudowoman is in control of most of the activities and classes. This reader feels that not all efficient decisions were "nicky-dick". I agree, but there were some poor officers elected where a male could do a better job.

Pseudowoman spent this past weekend at Lake Laurel for Spring Retreat planning the activities and events for next year. She allowed four very conservative males to go along so that the males would have representation. Some representation! With Pseudowoman having held the spot of all female roles, Pseudowoman has planned an orientation dance for the fall with the Salvation Army Band playing the music. Yes, once again the great woman has added the "Golden Bootie" to fall activities, so that her little followers can spend their spare time making boys to entertain their memories on "Golden days."

Pseudowoman's pet organization, Aperro is going to throw a big orientation for the freshmen. The freshmen will enter the gates of college and immediately get a ring around their necks. They will love in perpetuities "Dine Week", a week of being bazaar and kept from their normal lives to satisfy the needs of those Juniors who want "Rats" as treatment. I say "Rats" the Juniors who should be the "Rats". As my last comment I will quote a friend. I was walking on campus late last week and cheerfully said to this friend: This trend's resurgent was, "Pseudowoman, my
