Increase Noted In Number Of Students Enrolled In GC Business Program

A 9.5 per cent increase in enrollment for the winter quarter has been noted over the enrollment for the fall quarter at Robin's Resident Center in courses offered by the Georgia College department of business administration and economics. Robin's Resident Center is located at Warner Robins AFB.

On the main campus in Milledgeville, enrollment also continues the increase first noted in 1968 when there were 169 majors in the department of business administration and economics.

This quarter, there are 356 students enrolled at the undergraduate level and 46 enrolled at the graduate level in the M.B.A. and M.S.I programs, giving a total of 370 students majoring in business administration and economics, according to Dr. Joseph F. Specht, chairman of the department.

Dr. Specht attributes the rapid growth to several factors including the opening of such new degree programs as the B.B.A. in management, the B.B.A. in accounting, the B.B.A. in retail fashion marketing, and the M.B.A. in management.

Increased benefits to veterans, new industrial growth in the community, and the growing recognition that business and industry are seeking people with higher level educational backgrounds and proven mental ability to fill very demanding managerial positions are other reasons for growth, Dr. Specht says.

Student, Faculty Relations

For many years, a major topic of concern and discussion on the Georgia College campus has been the Student-Faculty Relations Committee. First let it be noted that the official title of this committee is the FACULTY COUNCIL ON STUDENT RELATIONS.

The Faculty Council on Student Relations was set up and organized in 1975 under the conditions described in Statutes, the faculty equivalent of the Student Handbook. The Faculty Council on Student Relations is made up of 6 faculty members appointed by the President of Georgia College, the faculty advisers of the College Government Association, and the Dean of Students, who acts as the committee chairman. The Student members of this committee consist of four voting members appointed by the Student Senate, and four non-voting members, President and Vice President of the College Government Association, and two co-chairmen of Honor Council. The overall concerns of the Faculty Council on Student Relations are: 1) to look after the development of the students, 2) to maintain a responsible student life for all those attending Georgia College, 3) to make all policies which govern student life, and 4) to take care of all cases for student demands with the exception of academic affairs.

Georgia Intern Program

You have an opportunity to work for a State agency for 11 weeks, with no obligation. Besides the practical experience you might get, 4 or even up to 10 hours of academic credit, and a stipend of $500 for the quarter without classes. That is what the Georgia Intern Program offers students at Colleges and Universities in the state.

According to Ralph Semphill, co-ordinator for the Intern Program here at Georgia College, the Spring Quarter deadline to file the application for the intern program is February 9, 1973.

Fall Quarter, more than 25 Georgia students took part in the program, which offers them the opportunity to work for a governmental agency or non-profit organization. Presently, there are 57 students involved in the Winter Quarter Program.

The student works full time in the agency, directing himself to a specific project. The projects are designed by agency personnel, and constitute tasks of a professional nature. After applications, on the basis of an on-campus interview and their application, have been matched with agency requests for interns, both student and agency are given opportunities to accept or reject the proposed assignments. Once the specific project on which the interns will work has been determined, the details of possible academic credit may be worked out between the student and his academic adviser in the department from which he desires credit. Some students propose an independent project for their internship, and receive credit for it.

While the internship concept is best suited for college juniors, seniors, and graduate students, the only requirement for participation in the program is student status. For information and applications, contact Ralph Semphill, P.O. Box 106.

C. G. A. Elections

The C.G.A. Elections will be held Wednesday February 14, 1973. The purpose to be filled will be President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer. Shoplifters

The price of shopping? You, the customer. Why? Because shoplifting has been growing yearly. At first, the major part of it was consumer fraud, but more recently for reasons we have come to realize that ordinary citizens are walking around with shoplifting in the back of their minds. It is estimated that in all of the large clubs in the city there are at least ten thousand shoplifters. The problem is one that cannot be ignored. It is not just theft, but a serious social problem. More people are being caught shoplifting, but they have been caught only on the surface of the problem. There is a need for education in the public, recognizing the possible results of this offense—shoplifting. A serious crime. Many people shoplift and often with a criminal record, it is a result of what they have learned to be a harmless habit.

A Faculty What??

Students, take heart! On this campus in Harwell Auditorium, and around the corner in the faculty of Georgia College, you will have our first Annual Faculty Picnic! This is a celebration of the faculty of Georgia College, and we will have a picnic to celebrate the occasion.

Foreign Exchange

At Georgia College

By Greg Duschkow

Paul Stanka of Stratford, a 25-year-old business major from Denmark, presented the mascot of Georgia College and presented the fellowship. This is a picture of the mascot that we are aware of the students at Georgia College who are interested in the foreign exchange opportunities.

Interview with President Bunting

It was four o'clock on a warm, sunny Georgia afternoon, and I was approaching the main campus in Harwell Auditorium. President Bunting was standing outside the auditorium, as usual, with his trademark black glasses on. He greeted me with a warm, friendly smile, and we started talking about the events that were taking place on campus.

The Dean of Students, Dr. Hillary England, had just announced that the foreign exchange program would be expanding, and I asked President Bunting about it. He explained that the program was growing, and that they were looking for interested students to participate.

I also asked President Bunting about the campus itself. He told me that Georgia College was expanding rapidly, and that new buildings were being constructed all the time. He said that one of the main goals of the campus was to provide a modern, comfortable environment for students, faculty, and staff.

Finally, I asked President Bunting about the future of Georgia College. He said that the college was planning to expand its facilities, and that they were looking for ways to increase the student body. He said that the college was committed to providing a high-quality education for all students, and that they were working hard to make that happen.

President Bunting then introduced me to the Dean of Students, Dr. Hillary England, who explained the details of the foreign exchange program. She told me that students could apply to participate in the program, and that they would be paired with a host family in another country.

Overall, President Bunting and Dr. England were both very welcoming and friendly, and it was clear that they were dedicated to providing a top-quality education for their students.

Phi Mu

Alpha Pledges

Eleven men from various Greek organizations have been inducteed as Phi Mu Alpha Pledges. The ceremony was held on March 4 at the Phi Mu Alpha headquarters in Athens. The new members were inducted by the director of the organization, Dr. John Bunting, in front of the members of the fraternity. The ceremony was followed by a reception for the new members, and it was a great success.

GC Falls In Homecoming Game

On Saturday, January 31, Georgia College faced Palm Beach Atlantic College, and were defeated in the Homecoming Game, 84-78.

The first three quarters of the first half were completely dominated by GC, as one point the colonials had built a commanding 13-point lead. But with five minutes to go the colonials outscored quick and decisively. The score was tied and still the half with a four-point lead.

In the second half Georgia College supporters experienced a new climactic change as Coach Robinson substituted five new players, all consisting of the second string. Excellent effort by Willie Brown and Blake Anderson were in this new string but the efforts were far from efficient in returning Palm Beach Atlantic's overwhelming offense. The entire first string consisting of James Edwards, Charlotte Brackett, William White, Larry Anderson, and John Savoy regained the second half with a decisive回收, but by this time the Colonials had built a commanding eight-point lead. With two minutes remaining in the game through the Colonials built the lead to 10 points, and were able to hold on for the win.

The Colonials now stand at 8-7 on the season, and 2-1 in the conference.

All The Time

You thought I loved her for all the time I loved you. It was lovely. You were telling me to be sad when she went away. I was telling because I loved her before you told me that there could be better times. I was in love and talked to you about it. You talked again because I loved you. Then you walked away with her. And I talked to you happy. You thought I loved her. But I loved you.

A Set Of Wheels

There's something grand about automobiles.
There's something thrilling about airplanes.
It's to look at a car that's new,
and when you're going, you feel that's not.
There's something about a car
that's easy and bright;
but when it's not 216,000 kwatts,
you know something isn't right.
It's special to have a car of your own.
Even more special when it's driving alone.
A car can be used for all types of things.
It can come in all kinds of fun and things.
It's hard to find you are going to fast,
D give means that it is going to last.
The car can be in a problem and please;
there are problems you can get for sure.
A car can be an expensive lot,
whether it's cold or whether it's hot.
Yes, there is something about automobiles.
But you get a train is a set of wheels.

"For Death Shall Be Swallowed"

February 7 the Baldwin County Community Chorus is in store with the public one of the most beautiful and inspirational works of music it has ever performed, Handel's "Messiah".

The "Baldwin Community Chorus" is under the direction of John S. McArthur, who has been in charge of the program for the last five years. The program will feature five choirs, each with a soloist, a choir from the University of Alabama, and a choir from the Baldwin County Schools.

The program will be presented by the Baldwin Community Chorus and the University of Alabama Choir at 8:00 PM on February 7 in the Russell Auditorium at the University of Alabama. The concert will also feature a special guest, the Baldwin Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Mr. Robert Wiltz, who will perform the overture from Mozart's "Requiem."
Art Majors
To Hold Show

The works of two senior art education majors at Georgia College—Judy Floyd of Dawsonville and Acton Little of Milledgeville—will be featured at an art exhibit to be held at the Bo Dillard Russell Library on campus from February 4 to February 21.

The exhibit will include paintings, drawings, prints, pottery, jewelry, and textiles. Judy attended Middle Georgia College before attending at GC. Little attended Monroe Junior College before transferring to GC.

A reception will be held from 4 p.m. to 10 p.m. on Sunday, Feb. 4, at the library.

Hours of the exhibit on the other days vary, depending on the hours the library is open. The GC Library is generally open from 8 a.m. until 10 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays, from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m. on Fridays, from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. on Saturdays, and from 1 to 6 p.m. on Sundays.

Send your suggestions and criticisms to your Art Editor, Tommy Beacham, G.C. Box 1150.

Middle Georgia has a rich architectural heritage that includes a large number of late 18th and 19th century structures. Many have been preserved and are in excellent condition today. Within the area are many fine examples of national significance of the Federal, Transitional, Greek Revival and Victorian periods. A wide variety of structures—private homes, churches, schools, post offices, court houses and commercial buildings—will be visited and studied in regard to their interior and exterior design and function. Additionally, there will be slide lectures, informal discussion, and library research during the course. THE ARCHITECTURE OF MIDDLE GEORGIA by John Liney, University of Georgia Press (1972), will be used as text.

ELIGIBILITY—Open to all who have an interest in historical southern architecture including undergraduates in good standing from any college, university or art school and graduate students and alumni of any institution who wish to further their studies with or without credit.

CREDIT—5-quarter hours APPLICATION—Party-time students can be accommodated in this program. Acceptance will be on a first-come basis. Application by May 11 is advisable.

FEES AND EXPENSE—Tuition is $75.75 and includes matriculation, transportation, and all entrance fees to architectural structures. (Out of state applicants should add $12.60)

LIVING ACCOMMODATIONS—Dormitory facilities are available at a cost of $127.50 for the period. Students must furnish their own linen.

FOOD—Meals will be available in the college cafeteria at a minimal cost.

EXCURSIONS—Five excursions will be made by air-conditioned bus to Madison, Eatonton, Sparta, Sandersville, and Monticello and considerable time will be spent exploring Milledgeville, the capital of Georgia from 1805-1858.

GENERAL INFORMATION—The climate is hot and sunny in June. The evenings may be cool, so sweaters are recommended. Dress is casual, but gowns are suggested. A shoulder bag for carrying course materials and a camera are desirable extras.
