Senate Backs Ravelo

The Student Senate of Georgia College met February 3, 1973 at 4 p.m. Out of 42 Senators, 26 showed up for the meeting.

President Juan Ravelo called for old business. Senator Ross Free read Bill No. 33 concerning the President's Advisory Board. Senator Jacob Jones made a motion to add three amendments to the bill. (1) if a new club is established at Georgia College they will be allowed to join the Board, (2) a representative from the senate should be sent to the Board, and (3) a representative or the president of such an organization on campus shall be sent to the Board. All three amendments were approved by the Senate. Then the bill was sent to the Student Activities Committee for final drafting.

President Ravelo then appointed Keith Jones chairmen of a special committee to work with Honor Council on the Judicial Bill. Senator Tim Walker was called on for a report on the Student Activities Budget, but he didn't have a report. Senator Jacob Jones asked to rescind the Golden Slipper Committee because there was no need for it. It was approved by the Senate.

Senator Wayne Sewell introduced Bill No. 37 establishing the Executive Council on Recreation and Social Activities. This bill was sent to the Student Activities Committee. Senator Buckie Bagawa then introduced Bill No. 38 establishing a Georgia College Health Professional Council. This bill is also sent to the Student Activities Committee.

President Ravelo asked the Senate to help the radio station that is trying to be established. He appointed Senators Keith Jones and Frans Howell to work on it and to give a full report on it by the next Senate meeting.

President Ravelo then reorganized his chair to Senator Tony Walker so he could have the floor. President Ravelo apologized for his conduct and behavior during previous Senate meetings. He asked for a roll call vote to see if the Senate wanted him to step down. A roll call vote was taken and the Senators unanimously expressed their confidence.

The Senate then approved June Edmunds of the Lyceum Committee and Bert Brown for Student Activities Budget Committee, being no further old or new business, the meeting was adjourned.

Off And Running

Get to know the candidates for 1973-74 College Government Association's administration. All candidates are available for questions on issues and causes at candidates night, February 25th, from 4:00-9:00 p.m. in the commons room of the College Union Building. Don't miss this opportunity to get to know the candidates. Come! Don't miss this opportunity to get to know the candidates. Come! Don't miss this opportunity to get to know the candidates. Come! Don't miss this opportunity to get to know the candidates. Come!

Following are statements for the four candidates who have submitted polices to the Colonnade for publication. They are listed alphabetically under the COLONNADE editor.

Keith Jones:

I am now serving my second year as Student Senator, this year as chairman of the Judicial Committee. As Chairman, I worked on the bill to allow alcohol to be served in the Physics building. Also, I sponsored a bill to allow the paper to sell women's curlers. Now I am helping work on a bill concerning the Colonnade for publication. They are listed alphabetically under the COLONNADE editor.

Students have often wondered why dorm students are required to buy meal tickets. The Colonnade editor interviewed the Dean of Students, Dr. William Littleton, to see if this question could be answered.

Dean Littleton stated that the regulation had a definite purpose behind it. The meal program is to have some way of knowing approximately how many lunches and dinner meals are being served. This is the best way for the food services to know if the college didn't operate this way, the prices would be much higher than they are now.

The food services do not receive money from the State of Georgia or from the college. They operate solely on what they take in. "The purpose," said Littleton, "is not to make money for the school, but to save money for the average student.

There are three reasons for which a student may be exempted from buying a meal plan. The first is if the student's class schedule prevents him from getting lunch. The second is if the student is not able to pay for a meal ticket. The third is if a student's meal ticket has expired. Also, if a student's financial request that he be exempt from buying a ticket, he may do so.

Another development that has worried many students is the new rule concerning meal slips. As of last week, a student forget his meal ticket, he will have to go back to the dormitory and get it. Meal slips will no longer be given out. The Colonnade asked Dean Littleton why this policy had been implemented. He stated that on some days from 9:30 to 10:00 a.m. people come through the line without their meal tickets. Before they can be issued slips, their records have to be checked to see if they purchased tickets. "It was becoming a physical impossibility," said Littleton. The Dean reminded students that their meal tickets are cash equivalent and must be carried to meals.

Twas A Method In The Madness

Now that the "Great Snow of '73" is rapidly melting into memory as well as into the ground, all of us suddenly realize we have become members of an elite group. In years to come when a few flakes of snow begin to fall on you, you find yourself asking, "Do you think this is snow? Why, I remember when we could remember how to make a snowball!"

When you were young, the sound of snow crunching under foot, the tingling cold hands.

"We can remember the snowball battle!"

One thing sure to be remembered will be the understanding and cooperation of the students during a period when the college was brought to a virtual standstill, except for furnishing and food service.

Despite general disappointment, classes were dismissed on Friday afternoon and Monday because of the large number of commuting students for whom travel would have been dangerous even if possible.

"It will long be remembered."

The College Union, like all other facilities on campus, was closed for several days. It was closed because most student assistants who operate the Union would be available because of the snow. Also, it became evident on Friday that the amount of snow and wind finding their way into doors would require a constant maintenance crew to keep the building dry and the hallways safe for walking. Unfortunately, however, neither maintenance nor maid services were available. In addition, since only the dormitory students were on campus and since each residence hall had its own recreation facilities, the College Union remained closed until Monday afternoon.

To all the students who survived the weekend on campus, and to all who brought tasty food to return on Tuesday morning, thank you. Here's to the "Great Snow of '73!'" It will be long remembered.

Make Your Own Peace

A million dollar campaign to more double its aid to civilian war sufferers in Vietnam and its work for a lasting peace in Indochina was announced this week by the American Friends Service Committee.

Designated the "North-South Vietnam Fund for War Relief and Peace Action," the campaign opened January 22. A major early phase of the campaign is directed to the university communities across the nation according to Wallace Gallett ., and the facilities are deeply concerned over the ramifications of this war. The theme of the campaign is "Make Your Own Peace."

The students from Dublin were among the 16 Aeolian Singers from Georgia College who performed at a concert sponsored by the Student Music Club at the First United Methodist Church fellowship hall in Dublin on Thursday, Feb. 9, 1973. Members of the group from Dublin are Tim Etherton, a music major, and Sam Frank, an elementary education major.

Last year, the group performed for more than 1,000 people throughout the state. Approximately 50 people attended the performance, which was highlighted by several high school and college choirs, including Summer Ferry, Athens, North Georgia, Young Harris, and Middle Georgia.

In the brief program, the group performed literature from all periods of history and music as part of the program, including selections from Thomas Mower, a Sophocles composer, and Bert Sotchi. The Aeolian Singers perform in their own concert season of GC and are student parenthesises with some of their selections.

The group is directed by Martin Stickel, assistant professor of music at the college.

Snow

by Walter Yeung

"Over the ground like a queen of streets, A host of people bridge away thru the streets. Stranger are gone and a hat in the chill in the weather.

Before a little snow safely fell, the Colonnade staff had been warned to be ready. Friday morning, February 19, dawned grey and early. By 9 a.m. a snow downfall had begun, and three hours later, it had begun to snow and sheet in novel and win't let up on the Saturday morning before it let up.

According to the state highway patrol, Wednesday's records from Friday through Monday, there were 10 traffic accidents in the Tallahassee area, the temperature reached a low of 2 degrees. Over 16 inches of snow were recorded in Tallahassee, 14 inches in the city. There was a month record, 12 inches in the city. The temperature was below zero degrees in Tallahassee.

The staff members were working hard to keep up with the snowfall. The temperature reached a low of 2 degrees, but the snowfall continued, and the staff members were working hard to clear the snow from the walkways.

Stop by Woods
on a Snowy Evening

Where woods there are I think I know
The house in the village though
We all are the stopping bees
To watch the snow till up with snow.

My title home won't be a house
To stop with a furnace near
Between the woods and the closer lake
The darkest evening of the year.

He gave his hands to the sheets
To make it light on paper; white.
The only other sound was the sound
Of snow up and falling, fast.

A score of bees were up in the snow
And shut them in their houses, keep
And came to give before 1 sleep.

THE GREATEST THING NATO EVER DID FOR YOU HASN'T HAPPENED

NATO has done more for peace than any other alliance in the history of the world. It has provided security and stability to Europe and its allies.

But the greatest days are yet to come.

YET.

If we support NATO—and build it—our security will be enhanced. The benefits of NATO are not just military. They extend to economic and political stability as well.

Because NATO is here today—we can build a better tomorrow.

POW's

"We have found," Collett added, "that many young people are seeking a way to do something that can make a difference. The POW program gives them an opportunity." The POW program is a grassroots movement that provides young people with an opportunity to make a difference in their communities.

The POW program is led by a group of young people who are committed to making a difference.

Senate Bill

A bill has been introduced in the Senate that would establish a "National POW Program" to provide support and assistance to families of POWs.

That's why we need to support NATO. It's vital to our national security and prosperity.

Why? Because NATO is here today—we can build a better tomorrow.
