Miss Homecoming 1975
Talented, Lovely, Carolyn Reid Crowned

On April 12, 1975, during a semi-formal dance given in the Maxwell College Union, the lovely, talented Miss Carolyn Reid was crowned Miss Homecoming 1975. Miss Reid, a senior year-old junior, is majoring in accounting. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Reid of Dalton and a graduate of Putnam County High School.

Miss Reid came to Georgia College in 1972. Immediately, she began to get involved. She joined the Black Student Alliance, in which she has served as a Corresponding Secretary and now holds the position of Business Manager. Miss Reid is also an appointed member of the College Government Association and serves on the Faculty Committee.

As for other extracurricular activities Miss Reid says she enjoys sports and getting involved with people. She has gustingly proved this by being a member of the Interfraternity Basketball team, as well as playing intramural basketball, softball, and volleyball. She was also the coach of an intramural basketball team which was sponsored by the Drummers Club. Miss Reid states that she is very proud of her team and its victories.

Miss Reid plans to graduate after Fall Quarter '75 and as such, she plans to go to work for the Internal Revenue Service and work for a firm for one year. In Fall of '75 Miss Reid plans to attend Georgia State University in Atlanta in order to obtain her Master of Science Degree in Accounting, but most of all her dreams entailed "becoming a Certified Public Accountant."

Miss Reid, a Resident Assistant would like to thank the girls on her floor for encouraging her to run. She would also like to send a sincere "thanks" to Mr. Clarence Williams from Sayanoga, Georgia, for being her mentor. Mostly she would like to send a deep and respectful "thanks" to her parents to whom she contributes her success.

Miss Reid would like to offer these words of advice to any girl who wishes to become Miss Homecoming: "Get Involved. Get to know people on campus. Study hard and love the people on campus with dedication."

Evans To Be A First

The first full-year basketball scholarship ever to be awarded by Georgia College is a woman who goes to Kary Evans of Millidgeville, according to an announcement made this week by Floyd Anderson, chairman of the department of health, physical education and recreation at GC.

Miss Evans, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Evans of Meriwether Circle, is currently a senior at cross-town Georgia Military College.

During her four years at GCM, the six-foot rover averaged 26 points and 16 rebounds per game and was outstanding also on defense. Her game high at GCM was 42 points.

Kary was sought by a number of colleges and universities, according to Laura Golden, women's basketball coach at the college, who notes that the future GC freshman can play either post or forward.

"Kary can go both right and left-handed, says Dr. Golden, and can shoot as well as from the outside as she can from the inside."

"It's very unfortunate to get her and I'm sure she will be a definite asset to the team."

Miss Golden also stated that Kary is a good team player, one who has matured when she is double-teamed and feed the ball effectively to a team mate.

"I don't think that she has reached her maximum ability yet," the GC coach feels, and "I believe she has a tremendous amount of potential as yet untapped."

Miss Golden notes also that Kary is "very quiet on the floor and an excellent ballhandler." Frequently in her four years at GCM, she was the one to bring the ball up the floor, an unusual situation for a very tall player who normally goes up under the boards as quick as possible.

Kary attended Normas Carter's basketball camp for four years and was named all-star last year at the camp.

At GCM, Kary is a member of the National Honor Society and on the tennis team. Hopefully she will be able to aid the women's tennis program at GC should she elect to try out for the team, says the GC basketball mentor.

Maxwell-Walton Competition Winners

Something new has been added to the Georgia College 1974-75 Maxwell-Walton Writing Competition, in which 101 contestants submitted a total of 322 entries.

In the high school category for juniors and seniors, the first place winner of a $25 cash prize is Martin Sandin of Berleen, a senior at Northwest Senior High, for his poem "Sextet I."

"Watching Birds in Millidgeville" by Pat Faxon, a 12th-grader at Southwest High, William B. and Stephen Graham of Albany, a Dramatique High senior, tied for second place prizes of $25. Pat's entry was a short story entitled "Love, Liberty and the Democrat," Graham won his honor for a short fiction piece, "Blowing Trees."

This Owen Stanford of Millidgeville, a senior at Bankhead-Millidgeville High and part-time GC student, captured third place and an award of $15 for her poem "Autumn." The Day of Millidgeville walked away with a first place prize ($50) in the Georgia College student category. His winning entry was a short story, "A Vacation Scrapbook." Another Millidgeville resident, Ashby Umery, won second place ($25) for his essay "Thau."

Third place ($15) went to Edward J. Peterson of Macon, who entered a short story "A.D."

"Becoming a Woman"

Maxwell-Walton competition judges gave honorable mentions to the following:

People To People

On GC Campus

A new organization, People to People, has been formed on this campus. This organization consists of interested faculty and students whose main purpose is to promote better relationships between faculty and students. The week of April 12-May 2 has been designated as "Student-Faculty Week." During this week students, will be lending faculty members to act for people to them in lunch, dinner, etc. A faculty student social game is planned; and it is hoped that afternoons will see the advent of part of one class period to permit students to question them on such things as their hobbies, interests, educational background, etc.

Ewphorst By The Sea

During the weekend of April 14, twenty students journeyed down to Brunswick, Georgia, for a retreat. This retreat was also supported by the Student Government of the University of Georgia, Georgia Tech, West Georgia College, and Young Harris.

The weekend consisted of a film festival Friday night, workshops, the beach, and a talent show Saturday; and a worship service with a speaker on Sunday. The speaker for the weekend was Bishop J.O. Briscoe, who was conducted by various camp counselors.

After a picnic and fun on the beach, the main program was a talent show. The talent show was a great success, and the audience was divided into four judges, who were to select the best show. The talent show was followed by a free-for-all period of entertainment. The show came to a successful climax when Marla Joyce got a beautiful uneditorial piece thrown at her by Bethany Monroe. She thought the crowd was all work and no play.

Sunday morning, Bishop Smith spoke to the students about the event that took place. He mentioned that college was not just a place where one could get a short-term service but that it should be a lifetime commitment.

The students of the University of Georgia had the largest number of students present from any school but next year one would be hurt if the number decreased. These processes went: Don Thresher, Sheila Winkles, Bill Barson, Gwen Hamilton, Brenda Smolen, Sheila Morphy, John Davis, Ellen Simpson, Merle Danielle, Ross Wooters, Marjorie Tryle, J.C. Castile, Karen Sandefur, Marilyn Dean, Edgar Giddens, Kathy Scovil, Barbara Helm, Donna Allen, Lynn Johnson, Sharon Butcher, and the three children Lee Ann, Renee, and Laura.

Delta Zeta News—

Homecoming

Delta Zeta's theme for the homecoming parade was the Delta Zeta Tarte. The tarte is Delta Zeta's mascot. The tarte was a large, mouth-watering pie decorated with flowers and fruit. The tarte was a huge attraction to the crowd.

Money Collected

On Saturday April 9th, the sisters and pledges of Delta Zeta Security collected money for the St. John's Children's Hospital through the Delta Zeta Tarte. The tarte was sold for $7 each, with all proceeds going to the hospital. The sisters were very excited about the success of the event. The tarte was a huge hit, and the sisters were happy to support such a worthy cause.

Song Festival

On Wednesday April 16th, Delta Zeta participated in the First Annual Song Festival. The event was held at the University of Georgia. The performance was well received by the audience, and Delta Zeta was congratulated for their excellent performance.

Cloths Bank

The Cloth Bank for Students will have a meeting every week at noon on Thursday in the Student Life Center. The club is open to all students, and anyone interested in participating is welcome to attend.

Fashions In Ebony

The Homecoming festivities were culminated with a fashion show given by The Black Student Government of the University Auditorium at 7:00. The theme of the fashion show was "Fashions In Ebony".

A spring setting was used as a background which provided the audience with a simulated environment for the upcoming summer months. Many members contributed to this wonderful showcase. The stores included Nord's, Dari's, The Enite and Harris's just to name a few.

The result of the BSA would like to think all those who helped make this project a success.

BSA Elects Officers

The BSA held elections for officers and the returns are as follows: Larry Stephens—President, Butch Williams—Vice President, Harris—Secretary, Kay Brand—Assistant Secretary, Carolyn Beld—Business Manager, Victor McDonald—Treasurer.

The BSA are in the process of making plans for next year. We are hoping that we will be able to open doors for new projects on campus. We will be working hard to make the next year as this one was or will prove to be a prosperous year.
